

A Salt Lake dispatch bearing date of the 26th ult. contains the following concerning the arrest of Bishop Robert T. Burton of that city, and goes to show that the Mormons are fully prepared and do not lack courage to resist the arrest of their leaders if the United States Government attempts to bring them to justice. The Mormons throughout Utah are fully prepared for any emergency which may arise, and when the proper time comes, at the bidding of their masters, four-fifths of the population of the Territory of Utah, and a large portion of the Mormon inhabitants of Nevada and the Territories of Idaho and Wyoming, also a large number of the Mormon settlers of San Bernardino county, California, allied with several bands of Indians, will spring to the call and gladly shed their life's blood in the cause which their teachings for the last thirty years has taught them to believe is right and just. These criminals, for such they are, should have justice meted out to them at all hazards, but the Government should go about it in a proper way and be fully prepared, and never "let up" until the last one of them had paid the penalty of his crime and Brigham Young had been sent to the infernal region to meet Lee. To accomplish this will be no light task and will cause the shedding of a greater quantity of blood than many have any idea of, but as the good work has begun it certainly should be pushed to a successful termination, cost what it may, and the curse of polygamy forever wiped from the soil of the Great Republic. Let us have no more Jimmy Buchanan fizzes. The dispatch says:

Bishop Robert T. Burton was arrested to-day (July 26th) on the charge of murder in the first degree, the crime being participation in the Moresite massacre. On his way to the court-room he passed down Main street, and beckoned, as if making signs, to the people on either side of the street. Shortly after his arrival at court the room was filled with an armed band of Danites, and subsequently, just as the examination began, Daniel H. Wells entered and interrupted the proceedings by abusing District Attorney Howard, who was informed that prosecution of the Saints had proceeded as far as it could without trouble; that the Mormons would no longer submit to having their leaders imprisoned, and that a crisis would come sooner and more terrifically than expected. Burton was released for the night on a $10,000 bond. The conduct of Wells toward Howard is exceedingly ominous and resistance is expected when the removal of Burton to the penitentiary is attempted.

The items going the rounds of the press a short time ago to the effect that Senator Benjamin Wade of Ohio had become reconciled to the President's Southern policy proves to be untrue and to have had no foundation whatever, for the old Ohio war horse on seeing an article to that effect published in the Washington National Republican takes occasion to write that paper a letter most emphatically denying the same and says he would like to know who, or what, is their "reliable authority," which the National Republican claimed they had received their information from. The old gentleman says in the letter: "Certainly I have authorized no one to make such a statement or any other. Since my letter to Mr. Painter, which was surreptitiously published, I have written to no one upon the President's policy, and have spoken to very few persons upon the subject, and then always in defence of the sentiments of that letter, which few hereabouts oppose. I regret to say that all that has since transpired in the South and in the North has but confirmed me in the correctness of the sentiments expressed in that letter."

The Marysville Appeal says that while the party remained demoralized in San Francisco the Republicans of the interior were discouraged and almost hopeless of success. The compromise in San Francisco will give new life and hope to the party throughout the State, as there are now a good prospect of a Republican victory in September.

The editor of the Beaver Square-Dealer has taken to publishing love stories. Very likely he has an eye on a couple of dozen Mormon lassies. Oh, you rascal! no wonder you espouse the cause of polygamy.

The Supreme Court of the United States has lately rendered a decision which is important as defining in certain cases the property rights of wives. It appears that a member of a bankrupt firm in New York had settled upon his wife a very valuable estate, which was taken possession of by the assignee of the firm, and suit was brought by parties in behalf of the wife to recover the same. The District Court decided that the settlement of the property by the husband of the property upon his wife was not fraudulent and ordered the proceeds of the sale of the property to be handed over for the benefit of the wife. An appeal being taken to the Circuit Court, this decree was reversed, and it was held that the settlement was fraudulent as to creditors and that the proceeds of the sale be paid to the assignee. From this decree the attorneys, in behalf of the wife, appealed to the Supreme Court, which Court finds that the money thus withdrawn from the business of the firm and diverted to the erection of a residence belonged to the creditors of the firm, and affirms the decree of the Circuit Court in favor of the assignee. But property purchased with money not diverted from the firm suit could not be maintained against the wife.

A private letter received at Fredericksburg, Virginia, states that nearly all the American officers in the Egyptian army are now on their way home. The letter was written from Naples by General Field, formerly of Virginia, who has been in the Egyptian service for several years. He says that with few exceptions all the American officers had been discharged from the Egyptian army and paid off in full, and he was then on his way home. Gen. Loring, who is among the exceptions, retains his position and remains in the Khedive's service. The reason assigned is that the disagreement between the Khedive and his American officers grew out of some complications arising from the position of the Egyptian Government toward the Eastern Powers now at war. It is believed that the Americans would refuse to draw swords in a cause so much at variance with their religious convictions.

N. Y. Indicator: The California operator proceeded to draw the net on Lake Shore yesterday by calling in about 25,000 shares loaned out by his brokers in the street. The notices were responded to in all instances and Keene got his stock without difficulty. Mr. Keene is a great bull on Lake Shore, but his "supreme effort" did not advance the price much. Lake Shore is the stock which even Commodore Vanderbilt could not bull. It has lately developed intrinsic worthlessness to such an extent that Mr. Keene and his Twenty-third street friends have not been able to get it up more than two or three per cent. It is more than likely that Keene will lose as large a sum trying to hold it as he did in Rock Island.

The Rev. Dr. Newman Wright, the ejected Northville, New York, pastor, still resides at Riverhead, L. I., and awaits justice in the courts, his sons in the meantime raising money for the support of the family by peddling tea through the streets.

"The important question," says the Cincinnati Enquirer, "for the coming Republican Convention in Ohio, will be whether to indulge in a platform and no candidates or candidates and no platform."

A conspiracy which would have resulted in a general uprising of the prisoners confined in the penitentiary at Joliet, Illinois, was nipped in the bud about two weeks ago.

VIRGINIA, July 31.

Edward Weller, President of the Ophir and Mexican mines, who has been for several days investigating the charges made by the Evening Chronicle against Superintendent Curtis, today suspended Mr. Curtis pending the final action of the Trustees. Mr. Curtis goes to San Francisco to-night. Colonel Weller will start to-morrow night. Superintendent Hardy of the Imperial, is temporarily in charge of the Ophir and Mexican.

SCRANTON, July 30.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad strikers to-day unanimously resolved to return to work at the reduced wages, and trains commenced running in all directions shortly after 4 o'clock without any disturbance. The strike of the miners and iron workers numbering several thousand still continues with no prospect of a termination. Destruction of property is greatly feared. Several places were raided and robbed last night, and provisions carried off in large quantities. There is much distress among the poor.

BALTIMORE, July 30.

Inquiry into the causes which led to the death of ten persons in the riot of the evening of the 26th, when the Sixth Regiment fired into the mob, was begun to-day. The testimony showed that several soldiers were knocked down before any shooting took place by them, and that they fired without orders from the Colonel. Captain Tappe, who commanded the detachment, testified that as soon as the doors were open a volley of stones and other missiles were poured in a perfect shower upon the soldiers, some of whom were on the stairway and some on the landing. Some shots were fired over his head by some of his men. He succeeded in reaching the street, where he reformed his command and gave orders several times to charge bayonets. At no time did he give an order to fire, and did not even give an order to load. He tried to stop the firing, intending to use bayonets only, and recollected saying to his men, "For God's sake quit firing." He heard the report of several shots from the crowd which was in the rear of his men. He started with 33 men from the armory and had 35 men when he reached Camden Station. He heard threats that no man of the regiment should leave the armory alive. He was frequently appealed to by some of the men to allow them to wheel and fire on the mob, but he did not give the order. He believed if his men had not fired, they would not have been able to have retained their muskets.

BUCHANAN, July 31.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg states that an important engagement was fought on Sunday, near Rostochuk, between Czarowitch and Ahmed Eynub Pasha. The Turkish corps is reported defeated with a loss of thirty guns, ten standards and five thousand prisoners. Later official dispatches confirm the foregoing. The number of Turkish prisoners is now given at 8,000. Ahmed Eynub's army is stated to be completely routed. The Russians will probably at once resume the offensive and follow up their advantages.

LONDON, July 31.

There has been no entirely reliable information from the front for several days. The Russians are vigorously engaged in strengthening their position in Bulgaria. The Roumanian forces, not being great enough to advance on Adrianople and keep up its line of communication, there is danger of a repetition of the campaign in Armenia, where too much was undertaken by an insufficient number of troops. It is believed that two great battles, one north and one south of the Balkans, are imminent or in progress. Austrian intervention is liable to be immediate, in case a decisive victory uncovers Constantinople. England's action will be guided somewhat by Austria, possibly in combination.

Midhat Pasha's visit to Vienna is thought to have resulted in guarantees as to Austria's action. Suleiman Pasha and corps effected a junction with Redif Pasha near Teneisgraba and an engagement is proceeding. Her Majesty's steamers Flamingo and Condor, which go to the Danube to protect British interests and assert Great Britain's treaty right to maintain two gunboats on the Danube, will be accompanying to the Black Sea by the ironclads Shannon and Agincourt, to support them, should their passage be opposed.

When a Pile finds a wild duck's nest he immediately puts himself outside of all the eggs it contains. It avails nothing for a little duck to put his bill out through the shell of an egg and remonstrate—down he goes, "talk-ee or no talk-ee."

We were shown on Thursday some very rich rock taken from the El Dorado South, says the Belmont Courier of the 27th ult., which assays all the way from $2,500 to $3,000 per ton. We have it from the best of authority that the indications are favorable for the striking of a bonanza at an early day. Work in the mine is being pushed rapidly ahead and the outlook is indeed very flattering.

White Pine News: We are informed that Doc Holmes of Eberhardt, has made quite an important strike in the hills back of that place and not far from the mouth of the Eberhardt tunnel. At a depth of 30 feet a 4-foot vein has been exposed, which assays over $100 per ton, and from present indication the vein seems to increase as it is opened out. Doc, thinks he has a good thing, and we hope he has.

The Revelle says, the Reese River Game and Fish Protective Association have secured the services of gentlemen living in localities where the wild birds resort, to watch for violations of the game law. The sagheens will be watched until August 1st, and the grouse and ducks until September 1st. The Association is determined to prosecute all offenders against the law, whether they obtain convictions or not.

Silver State 23th. Sheriff Kyle is preparing for a jail delivery to-day. He intends to start to Carson on this evening's train with seven convicts for the State Prison. As one or two of them are desperate characters, who have made one successful and several unsuccessful attempts to break jail, they are to be heavily ironed, and probably will be chained together to prevent the possibility of their escape, while being conveyed to the Hot Springs.

The west drift on the 3d level of the Grand Prize mine has been run 114 feet; east drift on same level 116 feet; both drifts in good ore. The east winze has been sunk 80 feet and continues to show 2 feet of good ore. The east drift on the 2d level in 372 feet, this drift is now in the Argenta ground 142 feet, and continues to show 4 feet of low grade ore; west drift 2d level is in 340 feet, showing a large vein mixed with quartz and porphyry; stopes continue to look excellent, and are now producing 80 tons of ore per day.

Tybo Sun, 28th: A man by the name of James Kelly left Tybo about the 12th instant for Ward, in company with a man named James Collins. Kelly has been to work off and on for the Two G Company for the last year and a half, and has been subject to what the miners call "lead fits." He was out of health when he left, and evidently became insane while on the trip. He had no money, so we are informed, when he left Tybo, but his traveling companion had about $30. Collins, if he can be found, ought to throw some light upon the subject. Kelly formerly worked for the Richmond Company in Eureka. Just as we were going to press we learn that both men had been found dead.

The Ward Reflex says, concerning the late unpleasantness at Hunter we have a few additional particulars. Instead of Kelly, Ed. Skelly was the man who resisted the officers and was shot. Skelly was shot in the groin, the ball ranging downward and coming out just below the hip-joint, and probably grazing the bone. His injuries are by no means serious, as he was on the street a few hours after, and as belligerent as ever. Our informant says at the time of the shooting Skelly was only armed with a shovel. After the first shot was fired at him, John McCarty seized the constable's pistol and told him not to shoot at Skelly again, but it went off at the same moment and afflicted a slight wound on McCarty's hand between the thumb and first finger, after which several shots were fired, two of which took effect—one on Skelly as above stated, and one on a man who was getting out of the way after the most approved fashion when a six-shooter is turned loose, who was wounded in the foot. From what we are able to learn this shooting scrape was brought about without sufficient cause, Skelly only being armed with a shovel, certainly could have been arrested without resorting to extreme measures.
